Support before and after the Gene Therapy Treatment

Enrolling in Pfizer GeneTogether

Once you're enrolled, you or your caregiver will receive a welcome call from your Patient Case Manager.

The Patient Case Manager offers one-on-one, non-medical, individualized support from a dedicated Pfizer team member. They will be able to discuss support options that may be available to you.

You will also receive an email to access the Pfizer GeneTogether patient portal where you will have an overview of your gene therapy journey.

Insurance assistance with Pfizer gene therapy

Pfizer GeneTogether can help you with the process of seeking insurance approval and understanding your coverage for gene therapy.

At this point, we will review the insurance coverage and eligibility details of your gene therapy infusion, including:

- Benefits verification, prior authorization, and appeals support, if necessary
- Co-pay support options

We'll be here to support and coordinate with you and your healthcare team along the way.

Preparing for your treatment

We offer resources and support to prepare for your gene therapy infusion.

We understand that traveling for care may be overwhelming. Your Patient Case Manager can assist you with traveling to the infusion center to receive your infusion and other logistical issues.

For commercially insured eligible patients we can assist with travel logistics required for your treatment.

After treatment experience

Managing all of the components of your gene therapy treatment can be difficult. We are here to support you during this time.

Additionally, we can help commercially insured eligible patients with certain limited post-infusion monitoring requirements, as recommended by their gene therapy's Prescribing Information
